

PREPARE FOR HOMECOMING

SPECIAL CONVOCATION WELCOMES HAYNES TO UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

President Addresses Students, Faculty At Assembly

TURNER SPEAKS

Omaha University students have an institution of which they can now be proud, and plans are being made that will make them increasingly proud of the University, according to President Rowland Haynes. President Haynes addressed the student body this morning at a convocation in Jacobs' Hall welcoming him to the University campus.

"Our students come better equipped to do college work than to any other school in Nebraska," stated Mr. Haynes. He based this statement upon a survey of freshmen students conducted last year by Dr. William H. Thompson, head of the department of psychology.

Weak School Spirit

President Haynes cited that the one point the University is weak in is school spirit and that this deficiency is common to most urban universities.

"I am not criticizing the students, but I do think that school spirit is worthy of some attention, as it is the basis of public spirit in adult life. I am pleased with the development that has been made this fall in the attitude of the students toward the University."

Barbs Approve Parade Plans

Approval of the plans of the committee, appointed by the Barbs to arrange for a float in the Homecoming parade, was made in a meeting held Monday noon, October 14, in the auditorium by eighty non-fraternity students. Ed-Nell Benson, '38, presided.

The next meeting will be held Monday, October 21, at 12:30 for the purpose of electing officers of the organization.

Sig Chi Dance Tonight In Gym

Hoot Mon! The bagpipes are calling you to the Sigma Chi Omicron Highland Fling this evening in Jacobs' Hall. One hundred and sixty bids, decorated with Scotch plaid ribbons, have been issued to the dance.

Evelyn Francis Clough, president of the pledges, is in charge of the arrangements for the dance. She is assisted by Virginette Olson, Jean Berlin and Beth Campbell. Solomon Susman's orchestra will furnish the music.

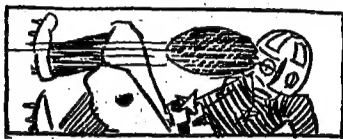

The guests of honor will be Miss Gertrude Kincaide, Mrs. Rene Stevens and Miss Gloria Kurtz. Mr. and Mrs. Clough will chaperone the dance.

FROSH PLAY South Dakota U. TODAY

The Omaha University Freshman football squad will make their first appearance of the season this afternoon against the South Dakota University frosh. The game will be played at 24th and Ames avenue at 2 o'clock and a large crowd is expected.

The University boasts the best Freshman team in the history of the school this year. The squad consists of twenty-two members, and has speed as well as weight.

Warren Howard, frosh coach, will make no predictions as to the outcome of the first encounter.

but the yearlings have been showing up well in practice this week.

Sed Hartman and Johnny Baker have assisted Coach Howard in polishing the frosh plays this week, since the varsity Cardinals have an open date.

The probable starting lineup: Slump and Reimann, ends; Zerschling and LaMantia, tackles; Threadgill and Lieber, guards, and Harper at center. In the backfield will be Kersenbrock and Middlekauff, halves; Jensen, quarter, and Kulper at fullback.

Women Cause Wars, Officer Tells I. R. Club

All the primary causes of war revert back to women, according to Captain A. L. Pleasants of the U. S. Navy, who spoke before a meeting of the International Relations Club Wednesday evening.

"Considering the fact that the fundamental causes of war are economic and center around man's protection of his home and family, the origins of war can be traced to women," Captain Pleasants explained.

In speaking of the stand the United States has taken in the current Ethiopian-Italian situation, the Captain expressed the opinion that if the League of Nations would unanimously apply military sanctions to the aggressor nation, he felt that the United States would join the powers in the League.

Captain Pleasants exhibited three films of the United States Navy to the club, picturing Navy maneuvers in the Pacific and the development made in the submarine and air corps of the Navy. The films were The Grey Armada, The Navy Fleet in the Air and Submarine Service.

SPEAK IN LINCOLN

Dean Rene E. H. Stevens will lead a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Association of Deans of Women and Girls to be held Friday, October 25, in Lincoln, Nebraska. Dr. Lyman H. Harris, professor of history at the University of Omaha, will address the Association on "Youth and the World Community Today."

UNI. ORGANIZATIONS COMPLETE HOMECOMING FESTIVAL PLANS

To Choose Princess Of Homecoming At Election Wed.

POLLS OPEN AT 11

Princess of Homecoming will be chosen Wednesday, October 23, at an election to be held in the Men's Faculty Building. Members of the Student Council will supervise the election. The polls will open at 11:00 o'clock and will close at 1:00. Only purchasers of tickets to the Homecoming dinner and dance will be allowed to vote.

The identity of the Princess will be revealed to the student body at a mass meeting to be held on the campus Friday morning preceding the parade. After her presentation to the students she will reign over the remaining activities of the day.

The candidates for the title of Princess of Homecoming were presented at a special assembly Wednesday, October 17, in Jacobs' Hall. The candidates are: Elaine Coulter, Gamma Sigma Omicron; Elinor Johnson, Pi Omega Pi; Gladys Lehr, Phi Delta Psi; Faye Lane, Sigma Chi Omicron; Mary Ann Harrington, Barb; Ardith Hudson, Kappa Psi Delta; and Sylvia Silverman, Alpha Gamma Chi.

Women Name Club 'Feathers'

"Feathers" is the name adopted by the women's pep association at a meeting of the group yesterday. Dorothy Anderson, leader in the organization of the association, was unanimously elected president of Feathers.

Miss Anderson is also president of Sigma Chi Omicron sorority. She was recently elected vice-president of the senior class and is a senior representative in the Student Council. She was also prominent in the temporary pep group that was formed last year on the campus.

Bertha Slutsky, a member of Alpha Gamma Chi sorority, was chosen vice-president of the group. Ardith Hudson, the Homecoming Princess candidate of Kappa Psi Delta sorority, was elected secretary. A Barb representative in the pep association, Ruth Grenville, was elected treasurer of the organization.

A constitution drawn up by a committee composed of one representative from each organization in Feathers, was ratified at the meeting Thursday.

Six members served as ushers at the convocation this morning. They were Betty Lou Stringer, Rosemarie Machek, Gladys Lehr, Ellabelle Korney, Elizabeth Bostwick and Virginia Lowe.

The pep association will appear this afternoon for the first time at the South Dakota-Omaha Frosh football game, to be held at the athletic field at Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue.

Feathers will enter a float in the Homecoming parade.

Groups Enter Floats In Parade Opening Friday's Fete

TICKETS ON SALE

Omaha University organizations start a week of busy activity today as they begin intensive preparations for the annual homecoming festival to be held next Friday.

The main tasks being undertaken by the groups are the outfitting of colorful floats for the parade which will open the celebration and the sponsoring of a ticket-selling campaign among members.

Organizations Respond

Lewis Leigh, Student Council chairman of the parade committee, states that the campus organizations have been nearly unanimous in their response to the parade plans, and all groups will be represented by floats.

"The students are showing lots of enthusiasm for this project," Leigh says, "and I feel that we'll put on a real parade that will wake up the town."

The parade line will be formed at the University at 10 o'clock Friday morning, will follow a line of march through the downtown section of the city and return to the campus at noon. The Indian Princess, who will be presented at a mass meeting on the campus preceding the parade, will occupy the first float.

Buy Ticket To Vote

Tickets went on sale yesterday for the banquet and dance to be held in Jacobs' Hall, following the grid game with the Peru Bobcats. The purchase of a 75-cent ticket entitles the student to one vote for the Princess of Homecoming in the election next Wednesday. Amy Rohacek is in charge of the ticket sale.

Contest Entries Due October 23

All entries in the contest to select a good Indian name for the team, a school song and an Indian yell are due in The Gateway office on or before Wednesday, October 23. A prize of a book of tickets to the remaining football games will be awarded the winner in each of the three divisions. The winning contributions will be used Homecoming day.

On the judging committee are Kenneth Turner, president of the student council, and Ellen Hartman, editor of The Gateway, as student representatives. Representing the faculty are Dean Edgar A. Holt and Miss Ruth Diamond, women's physical education teacher.

FILL S. C. VACANCY

Royce Brown, '38, was chosen by the Student Council at a meeting Monday, October 14, to fill a vacancy in the Council left by Wade Knapp, sophomore representative.

Gateway Harbors Peru Bobcat; Warn Students To Keep Away

Tuesday of this week a warning in the form of a short bulletin was issued by The Gateway; it stated that students not connected with The Gateway staff entered the office at their own risk, and that The Gateway would not be responsible for any injuries resulting from too close contact with the wild and ferocious animal harbored in the office. We repeat that warning now. It is the same animal that is supposed to tear our line to shreds and otherwise mutilate our team on Friday of next week.

At present the Peru Bobcat is making himself very much at home on the new telephone directory, and seems to be enjoying his new home quite well. As you all know, a full grown tiger or lion eats about one hundred pounds of meat a day; so this makes it a very expensive proposition for The Gateway to feed the animal unassisted, so we are making a plea to students to bring what meat scraps they can spare out of their lunch to help us feed the animal. We have compared the relative sizes of a full grown lion and of "Peru" and find that it will take somewhere in the vicinity of a pound of liver a day to keep "Peru" in good condition until after the game.

We hereby notify all those present that during the half "Peru" will appear on the gridiron for the sole and express purpose of allowing First-Down (the team mascot) to chase him over the fence. After which Peru will retire to his den in The Gateway office and go into training for the South Dakota game. This training will consist of the usual eating and sleeping until the night before the game when The Gateway staff will assemble at the magic hour of mid-night and with the silvery light of the full moon showing brightly over our left shoulders we will pin a pair of long rabbit ears (with due ceremony, of course) to his erstwhile stubs and behold at the game the next afternoon the team mascot appears to chase a large Jack-rabbit merrily around the gridiron at the half.

Just picture this to yourself; it will be colossal. When the Chadron game comes, The Gateway staff will again assemble and by the same sacred ritual remove the ears and by means of a couple of chicken wings and many magic incantations the Chadron eagle will appear at the game only to be chased to the uppermost branches of the nearest tree, where he will sit in dejection and solitude until some enterprising member of The Gateway staff coaxes him down with a piece of liver and a string. We believe the pageantry thus depicted will be just too divine. There is one catch to the whole thing—what does a Nodak look like and what if our animal tires of being chased and suddenly turns on First-Down?

THE AWAKENING

That a school spirit does exist on the University of Omaha campus was made known to everyone last Friday, when one hundred and fifty students journeyed to the Union station and gave the football team the most enthusiastic send-off they have experienced in years. The students who attended the game at Wayne the week before were reported as having actually cheered the team to victory. This same spirit is apparent in the splendid manner in which the students are pushing the organization of the pep associations and co-operating with the Student Council to make Homecoming a great day for the University.

Such spirit and enthusiasm and co-operation were practically non-existent a short time ago. Their appearance has renewed the hopes of those who have sought for years to instill in the student body a sense of loyalty, a feeling of pride and an enthusiastic support of our university, the Municipal University of Omaha.

COLLEGES AND CITIZENS

"Colleges will produce intelligent citizens," declared President Hutchins of the University of Chicago recently in an address to the parents of the nation. It is indeed a relief from the never ending accusations hurled at the colleges to hear a word of commendation. Parents of students today have developed a questioning attitude toward the colleges, an attitude resulting from propaganda aimed at the educational system by newspapers, and would-be patriotic groups and interested citizens.

Hutchins advised parents to keep their children at home if they are unwilling to have them enter the world of ideas, but he added that even at home they would not be safe because the radio, newspapers, books and movies can and do send them ideas. Freshmen in college in particular search eagerly for new ideas, marvelling at each new thought presented to them. They more than likely arrive at some conclusions which startle their parents that first year. The next year the learning process continues and the students begin to regard some of the propositions set before them as doubtful. Having passed through this stage of indecision, they reject all the ideas not conforming to the ways of thinking they have established for themselves. The students finally emerge from this educational experience having learned to think.

In the course of his discussion Hutchins asserted that if young people must meet new ideas sometime, it would seem the part of wisdom to have them meet those new ideas where they are fairly presented by intelligent people "who have no ax to grind."

ON THE MAGAZINE RACK

Sir Malcolm Campbell—The New York Times Magazine
(S. J. Woolf)

Speed. Achievement. Adventure. These are the things which Sir Malcolm Campbell, the great speed king of Britain, continually seeks. The Times Magazine describes his past experiences, emphasizing his last one, in which he sped over the salt flats of Utah in his Blue Bird at the startling rate of 300 miles an hour. The latter was the climax of 25 years of automobile racing. Although Sir Malcolm is 50 years old, he retains the devil-may-care attitude of a much younger man. Since even wind-ripples on sand tracks are enough to take the Blue Bird off the ground, the British racer prefers as an ideal race track one that is fully 15 miles long, absolutely straight, and as smooth as a billiard table. Sir Malcolm says that the present improvement in conventional automobile construction is due primarily to lessons learned years ago in racing cars.

Racing has been his "great sport," his "hobby." It is the thirst for adventure that has lured him on. Adventure he has found in the seat of his racer. Yet it is not there that he has gotten his greatest thrill. The lure of pirates' treasure on a tiny isle 400 miles off the coast of Colombia has attracted him for the past ten years.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Baton Rouge, La.—When Sen. Huey Long, dying, asked, "My university boys, what will become of them?" he was referring, according to Dr. James Monroe Smith, president of Louisiana State University, to his plan to send 1,000 needy youths to the university this year.

Every effort will be made to carry out Long's plan, Dr. Smith says.

FIVE YEARS AGO

1. Omaha University beat Central College in football by a score of 52 to 0.

2. A survey made among Omaha students by Prof. Sullenger, of the sociology department, revealed that Lon Chaney was the male movie idol of the day and that Colleen Moore held the high position among movie actresses.

3. The Omaha University goal line had not been crossed so far that season.

4. A University band of twenty pieces had been organized by Professors Irwin Hammer and C. W. Helmstadter to supply football game music.

5. Prof. L. O. Taylor, as director of the University's extension department, announced the expansion of the department to include a total of thirty-three courses in its curriculum.

6. Bernard Szold, director of the Omaha Community Play House, featured a student assembly with a talk on "Acting As An Art and As a Profession."

You, Me, the Gatepost
By FRAN NELSON

Speaking of this Earhart-Bunch engagement, for the benefit of all those people who don't know who Bunch is, I wish to announce that the girl they are probably thinking of isn't the one. The object of his affections isn't in school this year. So what?

That old idea of a secret marriage on the campus keeps coming back and for a good reason, too. All we have to do is sit still and watch for it to break. (They can't be secrets forever.)

Funnier things have happened before, but I don't know when. If you can remember that far back, you may recall that I mentioned that there was apt to be some hair-pulling and other things between a couple of sororities over this and that. The hair flew all right, but it flew off the top of my head. It seems that I was misunderstood. I was not referring to the fact that both of these sororities wanted the same date for their Christmas dance. But they do, however, and the shoe seems to pinch in that direction.

Did I ever tell you why so many of the students, as well as teachers, cross the street to the faculty building between classes? No? Well, it seems that when the school was built it was necessary to have the faculty building on the other side of the street because it was too crowded on the same side of the street; so naturally it becomes necessary to cross the street to get to the faculty building. Simple, isn't it? Oh, well, we must have our little joke, it brightens up the world so.

The Municipal University of Omaha was represented in the contest with a story by Phyllis War-rick, '35, and one by Martin K. Speckter, ex '37.

OMAHA DEFEATS ANTELOPES FOR FOURTH VICTORY

Powerful Cardinals Overwhelm Kearney Eleven, 19-0

PEAREY STARS

Omaha, 19—Kearney, 0.

That was the score for the Cardinals' fourth win, the second in the N. I. A. A. conference, an overwhelming victory as Omaha steamrolled a game Antelope team, before a record-breaking crowd of 5,000, last Friday night.

The game was thrilling, with many gains in midfield for both teams. Omaha had a two-to-one advantage in yardage and out-downed the Antelopes 13 to 8.

Sed's boys stopped a Kearney wave six inches from their goal line, then late in the first quarter Royce Brown intercepted a pass and galloped to Kearney's 20-yard stripe, making a nice 50-yard run. Pearey battered his way to the 6-yard line in four tries and muscled over for a touchdown. The Cards failed to make the extra point.

Later Kearney fumbled and an alert Omaha team captured the ball on Kearney's 25-yard stripe. Pearey smashed through and passed to Brown, who carried the ball to the 7-yard line. Tyler plunged through to the 3 and Pearey scored. Loder made good the extra point with a place kick.

The half ended with the Antelopes passing from Snyder to Parilek, to Lewis, and to Fitz. Some clicked, but the half was over, and the Antelopes were still far from the Omaha goal.

Loder of Omaha and Lewis of Kearney staged a punting duel in the third quarter with neither team gaining an advantage. Another Kearney pass was intercepted and the Cardinals were loose again. Pearey ran to the midfield. Loder kicked out on Kearney's 17-yard line and Conway fumbled the next play. Omaha recovered on the 10-yard stripe. With Tyler and Pearey smashing at the Antelope line, they had as much a chance of stopping Omaha as a tidal wave. Omaha scored and Brown's kick was high and wide.

Hartman has been giving the boys a rest from heavy practice this week and has been concentrating on the Frosh for their game with South Dakota Freshmen this afternoon.

Wednesday the regulars were not even required to report, but next week the heavy scrimmaging will begin in preparation for the Homecoming game with Peru, Omaha's traditional opponent for that day.

However, the team expects to take the Peru Bobcats without a struggle worth mentioning.

On October 25 Omaha meets her ancient rival and in the usual manner will hand the Bobcats their worst beating of the season. Sort of a season's greeting, as it were.

It is the consensus of opinion that Omaha will be the N. I. A. A. champions and that they have as good a chance as anyone to cop the North Central Conference.

Membership in the group is open to any student interested in French. Miss Gertude Kincaide, instructor of French, sponsors the organization.

Haynes Speaks At Art Memorial

"Art should be used to bring people together and to teach them to recognize and appreciate the beauty that exists, often unnoticed, in their every-day surroundings," stated President Haynes in an address on "Every Man's Art" at Joslyn Memorial last Sunday.

Mr. Haynes concluded that the art museum and the University are well fitted to open people's eyes to the beauty that is all around them, and to pass on to them the beautiful things that artists have discovered.

"An Announcement of Occasional Addresses by Members of the Faculty," is the name of a folder that has been issued by the extension division of Municipal University of Omaha.

The professors, who are called upon to address civic and cultural groups in and around Omaha, prepare speeches on subjects with which they are well acquainted. These speeches have been listed in this folder, and it will be distributed among the different civic and cultural groups in the city and surrounding territory. It will be a matter of convenience to both the professors and the organizations who invite the professors to address them.

Release Combined Directory, Handbook To Students Soon

The Student Directory, which is to be a combined directory and handbook of the University, will be released near the middle of October, according to George Knipprath, editor of the publication.

The book will be larger than it has been in former years and will contain approximately seventy-five pages. It will have the name, address, telephone number, school year and club memberships of all students of the University, including extension and special students.

The fraternities and sororities will be listed with the names of their officers and members. A calendar of school events, a schedule of football and basketball games, and a brief outline of the Student Council constitution will also be included.

This year the cover will carry out the newly-chosen Indian theme.

In order that the listings will be accurate, printers' first proofs will be posted on the bulletin board and the students are asked to check the proofs for mistakes.

The Directory staff consists of George Knipprath, Gladys Hall, Lois Medlock, Francis Nelson and George T. Threadgill.

President Rowland Haynes will address the Nebraska Writers' Guild Saturday, November 2, on "Writing as a Business and Hobby."

Complete Plans For Homecoming

has been asked to decorate a table for its members at the Homecoming banquet. A banner will be awarded to the group with the largest attendance and to the organization entering the best float in the parade.

The women's pep association will serve the dinner, with the assistance of the men's pep group. Arrangements for speakers at the banquet will be completed Monday, according to John Moucka, chairman of the banquet.

Jack Swanson and his orchestra will play at the Homecoming dance. The Student Council will decorate Jacobs' Hall Thursday evening, carrying out the Indian tradition and the University's colors in the decorations.

CLASS PRESENTS PLAY

"Sauce for the Gossings," a one-act comedy, will be presented by the advanced play production class Saturday afternoon over radio station WAAW at 2:30 o'clock. Those taking part in the play are Sylvan Frankel, Donald Reisser, Louise Rigg, Sue Kemper, Ann Ulrich and Perry Rushlau.

The dramatic class, under the direction of Miss Jean Jarman, instructor in dramatics, will present a one-act play entitled "Varnishing Day," at the Joslyn Memorial, some time the latter part of this month.

Honor President At Convocation

sity and its activities," concluded Mr. Haynes.

At the conclusion of his address President Haynes was presented with a bouquet by Kenneth Turner, president of the Student Council. The flowers were purchased from a penny fund collected this week from the students and faculty on the campus.

Martin Presents Haynes

Other speakers at the convocation were Dr. Frank G. Smith, who delivered the invocation; Mr. Frank T. B. Martin, vice-president of the Board of Regents, who presented the president; Miss Carol Wirts, representative from the University extension division; Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of the college of arts and sciences; and Kenneth Turner, president of the Student Council.

Kenneth Turner, who spoke on behalf of the student body, extended the sincere and hearty welcome to the students to the president, and pledged their support in all his undertakings.

President Haynes' address was entitled "Team Work for the University."

Carlton Williams, '35, returned to the campus for a brief visit last Friday and Monday. He is on a short leave from his work as timekeeper on a W. P. A. flood restoration project at Benkelman, Nebraska.

...but, after all is said and done, it's the cigarette itself that counts

... the question is, does it suit you?

Now, when it comes to a cigarette that will suit you... you want to think whether it's mild, you want to think about the taste

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident...

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobaccos to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.

Outstanding
.. for mildness
.. for better taste
